

Policy on Policies

Document Number: GNCL-0002

Date Published(sys): 10/15/2024

General Description

Policy Summary:

This document outlines Trinity University's policy and standards regarding developing, approving, implementing, retiring, and maintaining University Policies and related Standards, Procedures, and Guidelines.

This policy seeks to create a standardized policy governance framework based on the following guiding principles:

1. Policies that align with and strengthen the University's mission, vision, and values and take account of higher education leading practices.
2. The policy governance model creates clear ownership and accountability in policy development and implementation.
3. The policy governance model enables an efficient and collaborative policy management process and recognizes the importance of engaging stakeholders in the development and review process.
4. Policies, procedures, and related resources are in a consistent and accessible format and written as clearly as possible
5. Policies are user-friendly, and organized, in a central repository to increase awareness and mitigate risk.
6. Policies and related resources are kept up-to-date and comply with relevant requirements

Purpose:

Trinity University is committed to ensuring that all University Policies and related resources are managed in a manner compliant and consistent with legal and regulatory requirements and the University's culture and values.

This policy defines a University Policy, explains the relationship to related resources, and describes the key expectations, requirements, and methodology throughout the policy lifecycle, including development, maintenance, retirement, and archiving.

Scope:

This policy applies to developing, approving, implementing, maintaining, and removing University Policies and related Standards, Procedures, and Guidelines. All faculty, staff, students, and contractors involved in developing, approving, implementing, maintaining, or retiring University Policies and related resources are expected to comply with this policy.

Any policy that applies to one or multiple departments, schools, or units must adhere to this policy's principles. Department, school, or unit policies must be reviewed against University Policies to ensure no provisions conflict with a University Policy. The parties accountable for drafting department, school, or unit policies are responsible for identifying and addressing such conflicts and must contact the Office of the General Counsel ("OGC").

The designated Policy Drafters for each department, school, or unit are responsible for identifying and resolving any potential conflicts.

If a department, school, or unit policy conflicts with a University Policy, Standard, or Procedure, the University policy prevails.

Consistent with longstanding practice and guidance, all school-specific documents related to academic policies or changes to them must be submitted in advance for review and approval by the Provost.

The Provost may authorize exceptions to such school-specific documents, interpret them, or amend, rescind, or replace them. If a school does not adhere to Trinity's academic Policies, the Provost will decide the appropriate remedy.

Exceptions:

The policy development procedure outline below does not apply to the following documents:

- Trinity University Board of Trustees Policies
- The Trinity University Faculty Handbook
- Course of Study Bulletin
- The Trinity University Student Handbook
- The Trinity University Student Organization Handbook

The Faculty and Student handbooks describe the policy amendment, development, and retirement process within those documents.

The Provost is responsible for the final approval of the Faculty Handbook.

The Vice President of Student Affairs (VPSA) is responsible for the final approval of the Student Handbook and the Student Organization Handbook.

All documents considered exceptions to this process must undergo legal review by the Office of General Counsel before publication. Updates to these documents must be submitted to the General Counsel in Word format with tracked changes to show the amendments. Please allow seven (7) business days for the review process.

3 Policy Development Procedure

1. Policy Creation or Amendment Need Identification and Drafting

Once a Policy Owner, Policy Drafter, or Subject Matter Expert (“SME”) identifies the need for anew policy or a revision to a current policy, they should work with their division’s designated Policy Drafter to draft a new policy or amendments to the current policy using the policy format.

The Policy Drafter and/or Policy Owner must consult with the Policy Owner for their division and the appropriate SMEs to gather guidance and understand impacts across departments and the Trinity University community. The Policy Drafter and/or the Policy Owner should identify the SMEs. The Policy Drafter must consult the SME before providing a final policy draft for stakeholder review.

New Policy - Create the Policy Draft in Word format using the policy template when drafting a new policy.

Amended Policy - Include a Word version of the amended policy with tracked changes turned on, i.e., redlines, to identify the changes made clearly.

Consult the following roles/offices, in addition to SMEs, before initiating the policy approval process discussed in Step 2:

- a. Policy Owner (the Policy Drafter must notify the Policy Owner, or their designee, that the proposed policy or amendments will be presented for review in the Policy on Policies process and obtain the Policy Owner's approval to proceed)
- b. Office of the Provost (if policy impacts faculty)
- c. Office of Human Resources (if the policy impacts employees) Office of People, Culture, and Community.
- d. Office of Inclusive Engagement

2. Initiating the Policy Approval Process

Once a division's Policy Drafter has created or amended a new policy, they should submit a Policy Memorandum to the Vice President of their Division and the Office of General Counsel with either the new policy or the amended policy with tracked changes as a Word attachment to the Policy Memorandum.

The Policy Memorandum requests the Policy Drafter respond to the following questions:

- a. Why is this policy creation, amendment, or retirement being proposed?
- b. Does the University already have a University Policy on or related to the subject?
- c. Please list the various campus constituencies that are affected by the proposed policy. Please affirm that you have:
 - 1. notified and obtained the approval of the Policy Owner or their designee to proceed with creating or amending this policy,
 - 2. conferred with the constituencies listed above, and
 - 3. provided those constituencies a reasonable opportunity to provide input on the draft attached to this policy memorandum by checking the appropriate box below.

☐ I affirm that I have notified and obtained the approval of the Policy Owner or their designee, conferred with the constituencies listed above, and provided those constituencies with a reasonable opportunity to provide input on the draft attached to this policy memorandum.
- d. Is this proposed policy necessary to obtain/maintain compliance with applicable laws or regulations? If so, what are the requirements for compliance?
- e. Summarize the new policy or substantial changes to the amended policy in up to five (5) bullet points below:
 - 1. _____
 - 2. _____
 - 3. _____
 - 4. _____
 - 5. _____

- f. Please provide a 2-3 sentence statement explaining the changes that will be used for publication to Trinity TUDay for faculty and staff and an email to students if the EPG approves the proposed policy.

If the policy memorandum is declined by the Vice President of the Division or the Office of General Counsel, the policy drafter must revise the document according to the feedback provided by either the Vice President or the Office of General Counsel. After these revisions, the drafter must resubmit the policy memorandum for further consideration.

3. Stakeholder Review

This process involves a review of the policy by the TCC review and a legal sufficiency review by the Office of the General Counsel.

The TCC will review policies for the following:

- Adherence to Trinity University values and culture, including a clear statement of accountability measures
- Consistency, integration, and impact on other policies
- Format, accessibility, style, and language
- Impact on students, faculty, and Staff, as well as external stakeholders
- Impact on University operations and culture

Each TCC member who reviews the policy must document their concurrence and approval.

After the TCC review, the Office of the General Counsel will review the policy for legal sufficiency and document their approval.

If the Office of General Counsel declines the proposed policy, the policy drafter must revise the document in accordance with the feedback received during the TCC review process. Following these amendments, the drafter must resubmit the policy via the policy memorandum for further consideration.

4. Final Approval

After completing TCC and OGC reviews, the General Counsel will submit the final version to the Executive Planning Group (EPG) for final approval.

When reviewing a new or amended policy, EPG may approve it as drafted, reject the proposal entirely, or request additional information from the Policy Drafter for further consideration by EPG in rendering its decision.

5. Policy Adoption

EPG approval makes a new policy or policy amendment effective. After approval, the Office of General Counsel will add the new or amended policy to the Policy Library.

After the Office of the General Counsel confirms and communicates policy approval, the Policy Drafter will notify the campus community through university-recognized communication channels. The Policy Drafter will ensure that faculty and staff receive proper notice through Trinity TUDay and email TrinityStudents@trinity.edu to inform students of the new policy.

④ Non-Significant Changes to University Policy

University Policy amendments not deemed a significant change will result in limited review to effectuate the change to the University Policy.

A non-significant change is defined as such: Amendments or corrections to the policy that are editorial, changes to reflect institutional and organizational reporting changes, Responsible University Official or Office changes, website links, paragraph and outline numbering, and references to new related laws, regulations, rules, executive orders, and other policies and procedures.

The Policy Owner will submit a Non-Significant Policy Change Memorandum and present it to the General Counsel for review. The Policy Owner will articulate the specific changes to be made in that memorandum and attach a copy of the draft amendment with the memorandum.

Once the General Counsel has reviewed and approved the Policy Memorandum, the updates will be inputted into Zavanta and submitted for review through the non-significant changes workflow. If approved, the changes will be implemented into the policy immediately without being forwarded to the TCC.

⑤ Interim Policy

An interim university policy may be implemented at the discretion of an Executive Sponsor when federal or state laws, regulatory actions, or compelling circumstances make expedited policy implementation prudent.

Upon implementing an Interim University Policy, the Vice President will notify the Trinity community of the Policy via Trinity TUDay

An Interim Policy is effective for up to six (6) months from the Vice President's approval, assuming the Policy Owner initiates steps to seek normal review and approval promptly. An Interim Policy is subject to renewal for a good cause upon the President's or his/her designee's approval.

⑥ Policy Distribution, Communications, and Training

The Policy's Executive Sponsor of the policy or their designee is responsible for communicating the University Policy, policy amendment, or policy retirement to key stakeholders through Trinity TUDay.

The Executive Sponsor or their designee is also responsible for facilitating any training required for successful policy implementation.

⑦ Policy Retirement

Changing circumstances may require the retirement of a University Policy. Before retiring, the Policy Owner will submit a memorandum to the General Counsel explaining the rationale for retiring the policy.

The policy will be immediately retired after the General Counsel reviews and approves it. The Policy Owner must communicate the policy's retirement through TrinityTuDay and to all students via email at TrinityStudents@trinity.edu.

⑧ Policy Retention

The policy Owners and the Office of the General Counsel shall retain previous versions of university policies according to the University's Records Retention Policy.

⑨ Periodic Policy Review

Policy Owners are responsible for reviewing and updating, as necessary, University Policies contained in their portfolio at least annually and taking appropriate action to make timely updates to policy content.
